Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 30, 31,33-35, and 36-56 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The claim preamble a "financial terminal" is vague and indefinite with respect to what essential structure is inherent thereto.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claims 30,31,33,34 and 35-50,52,53 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by 6,584,309.

The rejection is set forth in the previous office action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claims 30,31,33,34,35,38,39-41,44-47 and 50 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by US Patent 6648220.

Art Unit: 3693

The prior art teaches that alternative ATM machines embodiments may be configured to operate responsive to portable devices such as PDAs and/or cell phones. And in example embodiments of the ATM can include a wireless communication port which enables wireless communication with such a portable device. And that such portable device may operate to provide data to the machine that would otherwise be input through other input devices such as the card reader, function buttons and/or keypad. Moreover, the reference teaches that the ATM may have an application that enables a user to stage or perform all or a portion of a requested transaction prior to arrival (paragraph 29).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 36,37,42,43, 48,49 and 51-56 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over US Patent 6648220.

The prior art teaches that alternative ATM machines embodiments may be configured to operate responsive to portable devices such as PDAs and/or cell phones. And in example embodiments of the ATM can include a wireless communication port which enables wireless communication with such a portable device. And that such portable device may operate to provide data to the machine that would otherwise be input through other input devices such as the card reader, function buttons and/or keypad. Moreover, the reference teaches that the ATM may have an application that enables a user to stage or perform all or a portion of a requested transaction prior to arrival (paragraph 29).

Art Unit: 3693

The prior art fails to expressly teach of an ATM lacking a key pad and/or a video displays. Based on the above teaching it would have been obvious for one skilled in the art at the time to have omitted either of these componets as motivated by the requirements of the ATM.
